

Up Close

Paul

Aug21

From a distance the world is lonely and grey
From a distance there is no life to stay
Up close I really must arrive
Up close do colours come inside
To spot my mind with light
And show what life's in sight

I declare this to be my own work, entirely. In particular, no AI was used in any research, analysis, synthesis, writing, nor typesetting of this work. In short, AI was not recruited at any time in this work. Errors and inaccuracies are therefore proudly my own.
